Cyber Security

BUILD A SECURE FEDERAL FUTURE

Federal agencies are vulnerable to a wide variety of cyber security threats, including breaches involving mobile devices and denial-of-service attacks. In fact, cyberattacks targeting Federal agencies' networks, systems, and websites have soared over 650 percent within the past five years. This cyber risk jeopardizes the confidentiality and integrity of sensitive government and citizen information. However, with every new cyber threat comes new prevention opportunities – opening the door to cyber security innovation. Ninety-five percent of end users and Federal cyber pros believe the deployment of cyber security measures is an absolute necessity to protect agencies from cyber threats. With high-level cyber security capabilities, Government Acquisitions, Inc. (GAI), a HUBZone certified small business, can assist agencies with cyber threat prevention and address various vulnerabilities, risks, and compliance issues. Cyber security supports your mission by:

▶ Isolating, detecting, remediating, and preventing Advanced Targeted Attacks (ATA), as well as Advanced Persistent Threats (APT)

▶ Enhancing network, endpoint, storage, mobile, and application security

▶ Mitigating compliance, governance, and risk

▶ Preventing network intrusions through unified threat management, network admission control, security log forensics, and firewall intrusion detection systems/intrusion prevention systems (IDS/IPS)

CENTRALIZE ENDPOINT SECURITY MANAGEMENT
Combine the distribution of security software to end user devices with centralized management.

ENSURE SECURE NETWORKS
Identify security threats and deploy effective tools to combat.

PROTECT APPLICATIONS
Utilize software, hardware, and procedural methods to protect applications from external threats.

SECURE STORAGE
Authenticate and encrypt stored data to ensure data security.

MONITOR AND MANAGE MOBILE DEVICES
Secure, monitor, manage, and support mobile devices deployed across mobile operators, service providers, and agencies.
